

So you want to pitch an article idea to the Berkeley Science Review?

Follow this infographic to learn about the types of articles we publish in our blog and magazine!

START

We have pitch deadlines in May and December.

Can you make it???

Yes

No

You'll likely be published in the magazine

What's your brilliant idea?

"I want to write about research and/or faculty at Berkeley!"

"I'm interested in writing about something other than Berkeley-related research!"

Here are the type of articles we publish in the magazine each semester

Labscope
~250 words

Faculty Profile
~500 words

Book Review
~750 words

Feature
1000+ words

Toolbox
~300 words

Brief
~700 words

From the Field
~1000 words

You'll be published in the blog

We are open to all topics, but here are common themes to jumpstart your ideas

Graduate Student /
Scientist Life and Advice

Science / research
elsewhere, or a global trend

Current Events
(at UC Berkeley, in STEM, etc)

Anything else!
We love new ideas too